UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES GIVEN HEAVY TASKS OVER HIRAM'S PLUGGERS

NEW YORK, April 6.—Returns from up-State and from 2282 election districts out of 2571 in this city late tonight indicated the election of the "big four" uninstructed delegation to the Republican National Convention by a vote of nearly three to one over former State Senator William M. Bennett, pledged to Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California for the Republican Presidential nomination.

The Vote for the "big four" in this city was as follows:
Nathan L. Miller, 65,536; Senator James S. Wadsworth, Jr., 65,863; Senator William M. Calder, 68,733; William B. Thompson, 53,745. Bennett's vote was 23,851.

While the voting generally was light, there were sharp contests in each of the eight Brooklyn districts, in four Manhattan districts and in four up-State districts, in all of which Johnson candidates opposed the regular organization candidates, and in the Seventeenth District in Manhattan, where two supporters of Herbert Hoover were in the race.

Late returns indicated the organization candidates had posted substantial majorities over Johnson adherents in all districts.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and Charles D. Hillis, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, were elected from the Nineteenth Congress District, Manhattan, by a vote of more than three to one over Johnson supporters.

DETROIT, April 6.—The relative position of the Republican candidates for Presidential preference in Monday's primaries remained practically unchanged late tonight when returns received from 1445 precincts out of the State total of 2415.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, who has maintained a lead practically all the way, had a total of 124,727, while Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, Johnson's nearest opponent, had 81,994.

Gov. Lowden of Illinois received 53,985, and Herbert Hoover, 40,268. No late tabulations were available for Gen. Pershing and Senator Miles Poindexter, who received in early returns 15,112 and 14,444, respectively.

Herbert Hoover, whose name also appeared on the Democratic ticket, was leading in 1472 precincts with a total of 17,442. Gov. Edwards of New Jersey had 12,196 and other Democrats stood: Bryan, 11,988; La Follette, 10,870.

Only a few precincts had reported on the Socialist vote. Eugene V. Debs was the announced candidate, and the general response laughing.

Previous talks had been made at Jerseyville, where he spoke at the station and at Jacksonville, where he found a large crowd at the Courthouse. When he referred to the war, an old man in the Jacksonville audience asked him: "What kept us out of war?"

"I know who kept me out of war," the old man asked him. "The Republicans."

JAPAN HAS HER ALIBI. ON PEACE.

Claims Aggression Nine-Hour Deadline on Debate.
Attack and Gain Control of Vladivostok After Threatening Acts.

Tokio Says that Negotiations Were Progressing in a Favorable Way.
Whether Congress Has Right to Act in Matter will be Basis of Discussion.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Japanese attack on Vladivostok, which gave them control of the city, resulted from "threatened and aggressive acts of a portion of the Russian army," according to an official dispatch from the Japanese government yesterday to the Japanese War Department received today by Maj.-Gen. Kaniyama Inouye, the Japanese military attaché here.

The dispatch said the Japanese commander, after dismissing the Russian forces, had no motive other than to maintain order. It was added that the Russian authorities were "now being negotiated with in an endeavor to arrive at a harmonious policy."

The dispatch said that the battle between the Japanese and Russian army at Nikolai and Khabarovsk was continuing. The Japanese commander said to have been forced "by the sudden aggressive action of the Russian army."

Gen. Inouye summarized the dispatch from Tokyo in the following statement: "According to a proclamation by the Japanese government, issued on the morning of April 5, the Japanese army and the Russian army were progressing very favorably, with a view to agreeing upon a program of co-operation. However, on April 4, the sudden aggressive action of the Russian army forced a battle between the Japanese troops at Vladivostok, Nikolai and Khabarovsk."

"At Vladivostok the Japanese succeeded in dispersing the Russian army and the navy on the morning of April 5, but at Nikolai and Khabarovsk the fighting is still in progress. The Japanese commander proclaimed that the disturbance was provoked by the threatening aggressive action of a portion of the Russian army, and that the Japanese have no intention of maintaining order."

"The Japanese flag was raised Thursday over Tiger Hill. The Japanese troops were advancing, and the Russian troops were retreating. The Japanese forces were under Gen. Takayanagi, who called on the Vladivostok provisional government to comply with the following demands:

"To furnish food, transportation and barracks for the Japanese; to ratify all agreements between the Japanese and any Russian governments and commanders; immunity of all Japanese troops and their movements; avoidance of any anti-Japanese movements, including any threatening demonstrations in connection with Manchuria and Korea; suppression also of any anti-Japanese publications and protection of Japanese subjects respecting their lives, property and other rights."

"Sunday, April 4, representatives of both sides talked over these matters without reaching any agreement, and Sunday night the occupying Japanese forces began firing on the headquarters of the Russian provisional government."

"Each side claimed that the other was the aggressor. The Japanese said that three of their number had been killed."

"The headquarters of the provisional government were recaptured by the Russians, who claimed they found their records in scattered condition. The Russians insisted that the attack on the city be investigated by an Allied commission, that arrests and searches by the Japanese be discontinued; that the arms and ammunition of the Russians be restored to them; and that the Russian forces be evacuated by the Japanese. The Russians insisted upon their right to an explanation and an apology."

"The American Vice-Consul at Chita, in the Russian region of Siberia, reported that the city on April 3 was besieged by the local Bolshevik forces, who were awaiting reinforcements from the Bolshevik army at Irkutsk. The anti-Bolshevik local authorities at Chita stated also that they were awaiting reinforcements from the Japanese, who were moving from the east, and that a battle was imminent west of the city."

SINN FEINERS NOW RIOTING IN BRITISH JAIL.

DUBLIN, April 6.—There have been riots in Mt. Joy prison, where nearly 100 Sinn Fein prisoners are on hunger strike. They demanded better treatment and, receiving an unsatisfactory answer, smashed the furniture in the cells and broke down a wall between the cells. It was rebuilt, but they tore it down again. The men are now manacled and a strong military guard has been installed within the prison.

Income-tax officials returning to duty today after the holidays had no place in which to work as a result of Easter riots. An official described the exploit as a master stroke, saying: "It may take nine months to catch up with the damage."

Not all the income-tax papers were destroyed. Some were carried off and there is a story from the provinces of an amused audience listening to a letter among the captured papers, in which a wealthy farmer tried to persuade the authorities that his income did not exceed £700 yearly.

QUOTE FRANKLIN LANE AT HOOVER MEETING.

HIS CANDIDACY A PROTEST AGAINST MACHINE POLITICS, IS STATEMENT.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Franklin K. Lane of California, former Secretary of the Interior in President Wilson's Cabinet, was quoted today at the organization of the Hoover Republican Club of New Jersey as saying that the Hoover movement is a protest against machine politics.

About forty Republicans and two Democrats took part in the organization of the club. The Democrats, David Flynn and Alexander Smith of Princeton refrained from taking part in the organization, but said if Hoover is nominated they will "bump" the Democratic party and work for Hoover's election. The meeting today was at the Washington restaurant.

The resolution by which the club was organized set forth its purpose as "to assist in bringing about the nomination by the Republican party of Herbert Hoover as its candidate for President of the United States."

IRISH AIR RAID FIASCO.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Barred from the streets surrounding the British Embassy, the Irish pickets today took to the air.

From a flying machine they rained packages of leaflets expounding the Irish cause, and challenged the police to come up and stop them. There being no "sky cops" in the national capital, no arrests were made. Four leaflets, however, were arrested.

The "bombing" expedition attracted much attention, but it registered no hits. A low visibility, and equally winds scattered the "bombs" everywhere but on the Embassy.

Larrie Valeria has taken a modest apartment and she has given her former friends in court circles to understand that she no longer wishes to be identified with that social caste.

QUIZ GEN. HARTS
ON WAR PRISON.Is Questioned as to Conditions in Paris Camp.Bland Asserts that Officer was Responsible.Claims that Soldiers Were Severely Treated.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Brigadier General W. W. Harts, who, as the commanding officer in charge of the Paris district, was accused of responsibility for conditions at the prison camp where "Hard-boiled" Smith exercised authority, was grilled today by the Johnson subcommittee of the House War Investigating Committee.

Representative Bland of Indiana was the chief inquisitor. His question caused Gen. Harts to appeal to the committee for fair treatment. Representative Flood of Virginia, minority member of the subcommittee, took Gen. Harts' side, declaring that Representative Bland did not give him an opportunity to answer questions in his own way.

Gen. Harts defended his record and declared that conditions in the prison in the Paris district were exaggerated.

Before taking the witness stand, Gen. Harts was required by Representative Bland to waive any immunity that his testimony might afford him. Gen. Harts was ordered back to this country by the War Department in order to appear before the committee.

Representative Bland took Gen. Harts severely to task because of conditions in an army prison at Paris in the same building with his office. Twelve men were reported to have slept on the floor in a small room fifteen by six feet.

Representative Bland insisted that the men did not have room to lie down. Gen. Harts declared that such conditions should not have been tolerated.

Bland also criticized Harts for failing to provide sufficient blankets for the men quartered in the prison.

"Every soldier who came to Paris on proper duty had blankets," Gen. Harts declared. "Every soldier who was there without blankets was a deserter or a stalker, with which you approached the job," commented Representative Bland.

"These boys were not the innocent, dutiful boys," continued Gen. Harts. "The boys of that kind were up at the front. The men in Paris who were without blankets were not in the right spirit."

"There were many men who were not stalker or deserter," Gen. Harts declared. "They were forced by accident to spend nights in these places," said Representative Flood.

"It was difficult to get so many men to treat them all justly," replied Gen. Harts.

Gen. Harts declared that he was not responsible for the conditions in the Paris district.

Others Pledge Support.

Under the management of Walter Leads, the precinct organization of Los Angeles for Hoover will be started immediately. It was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the Hoover Republican Club. It is planned to establish a strong Hoover club in every precinct of the city, to carry on the campaign for the election of Hoover delegates to the Republican National Convention.

The organization of the territory outside of Los Angeles is practically completed, nearly every town and village in Southern California now having a strong Hoover club, stated B. O. Boothby, secretary of the local Hoover Republican Club, yesterday.

Occidental College is now well organized, and on tomorrow Pomona College will be organized at a meeting which will be addressed by Mr. Herbert A. Cable and Ralph C. Ely.

A meeting of Hoover supporters has been called for Friday in Pasadena at the Y.M.C.A. Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, who is to arrive in Los Angeles today, will be the speaker of the evening. In Pasadena, also, the technical men, including architects, engineers and chemists, have formed a strong organization, which has offered to render all possible assistance to the local Hoover Republican Club during the campaign of next month.

Telegrams received yesterday by the Make-Hoover-President Club indicate that the campaign for Hoover is in full swing. Fred Elliot, acting manager of the movement in Arizona, wired that interest in the Hoover campaign in that State is mounting rapidly, and that Republicans from all parts of the State are rallying to his support.

Strong indications of the movement to make Hoover President of the United States have been received from the local club. Among those who have promised their support to the Hoover campaign are Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard; Alvin S. Johnson, economist and a member of the editorial staff of the New Republic; and Mrs. Margaret De Land, well-known author.

"It gives me great satisfaction," says Mrs. De Land, "to express my deep appreciation of Herbert Hoover. I think Mr. Hoover's chief characteristic is what you might call an inventive realism. He has vision, but he does not dream. I wish there was anything I could do to help his candidacy along."

Alvin S. Johnson says: "I am, of course, heartily in sympathy with the purposes of the Make-Hoover-President Club. As a member of the editorial staff of a journal which is out for Hoover, I am already doing all I personally can to awaken sentiment for him."

"I consider Mr. Hoover much the best of any of the candidates already mentioned for the Presidency," writes Dr. Eliot. "It would be a very useful thing for the public to have an engineer made President on the grounds of personal character and professional achievement, and certainly it would be a great satisfaction to me as a veteran educator."

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Dr. A. W. Stickney, geologist of Galveston, Ill., and H. D. T. Reynolds, American citizens employed by a London firm, who were reported to have been captured by the Bolsheviks at Nevo Nikolayev, were reported to the State Department today safe and undisturbed by the Bolshevik authorities in the Altai district of Siberia.

Information was given to the American Consul at Harbin by Col. Frank R. Blunt of Plano, Ill., one of the group of Americans of the Russian Railway Service Corps captured by the Bolsheviks several months ago.

Blunt, so far as the State Department has been informed, is still in the custody of the Bolsheviks and when last heard from was at Krasnoyarsk.

Although in communication with American authorities at Harbin, Col. Blunt and his associates were said to be well treated by their captors who furnished them with money and provisions and allowed them restricted liberties but thus far had refused to permit them to leave.

PINK BOLL WORM IS

COTTON INDUSTRY SAY AGRICULTURE EXPERTS.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Reappearance of the pink boll worm in Texas and the discovery of the insect in Louisiana present the most serious situation which has ever confronted the cotton industry of the United States, according to experts of the Department of Agriculture.

Unless preventive measures are taken immediately, the situation issued today said, the boll worm will become a permanent and intolerable factor in the production of cotton.

The drastic quarantine now being enforced in Louisiana gives hope of an eradication of the pest in that section, the review said, but the "unfortunate results" of the re-appearance of the pest in Texas districts where the boll worm has become entrenched threatens to undo the work of stamping out the destroyer.

Public hearings were opened at the Department of Agriculture today on the question of the advisability of quarantining Louisiana and Texas because of the discovery of the pink boll worm in the former and its reappearance in the latter.

The arrival of the Manassas will bring to America the first of her soldier dead from either France or England.

SPOKANE, April 6.—The number of union-made garments worn by delegates to the Spokane Central Labor Council would be a determining qualification for the delegate to sit in the council, under a plan submitted to the council by D. P. Reid, a delegate from the Electrical Workers' Union.

Under the plan newly elected delegates would be taken to an anteroom by the Card and Label Committee and searched. If the garments worn by the individual delegates averaged 40 per cent union label, the delegate would be seated. Forty per cent would do for a delegate who had been a union member less than a year. Female delegates would be exempt.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The results of the Michigan primary, widely heralded for weeks as a "crucial test" of the relative popularity of the candidates for President upon all calculations in both parties.

The Johnson victory in Michigan has put the California Senator "on the map" as a formidable contender for the Republican nomination.

That Wood's defeat in Michigan is a severe blow to the general's candidacy elsewhere is admitted by some of the Wood managers here, though they still expect their candidate to go into the convention with more delegates than any other aspirant.

The damage to Wood is expected to show up noticeably in New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, with Lowden, Johnson and Harding the beneficiaries.

Some of the Wood managers, however, profess to believe that the general will be strengthened in Illinois by the popular preference for Lowden here in Michigan, Minnesota and South Dakota.

LOWDEN STILL STRONG.

Lowden has neither gained nor lost. He will be a potential figure in the convention, and with Wood and Johnson at grips in the Progressive camp, the Illinois Governor might capture the nomination.

The Edwards vote reflects strong anti-prohibition sentiment in the Democratic primary.

Administration officials who predicted a vindication in Michigan of the President's attitude on the League of Nations are disappointed.

Senator Wood's manager in Washington, admitted that "the general's triumphal march to the nomination, has suffered a check, and declared the Michigan primaries had narrowed the race down to a contest between Wood and Johnson.

"If, as now seems apparent, Gen. Wood has lost Michigan, it is up to his friends to go and get thirty delegates somewhere else," said Senator Moses.

MOSES PHILOSOPHY.

Senator Moses said that last August he took dinner with Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, and remarked that the Republican leaders would have to choose between Leonard Wood and Hiram Johnson.

"One of the small bits of satisfaction that I got out of the Michigan primary, therefore, is that it enables me to say, 'I told you so,'" said Senator Moses.

"The determining factors in the Michigan campaign were, first Johnson's strong personality," said Senator Borah. "The people saw him, heard him and believed in him."

"Second, campaign expenditures. The people of Michigan saw on every hand an intolerable use of money. They were thoroughly aroused, and they rendered their verdict."

"Third, the League of Nations. My experience with my audiences convinces me that this was the great determining factor in the campaign in favor of Johnson. The people will not listen to compromises where national independence is involved. It is just as certain as anything in the future that the man who runs for President on a platform which surrenders to the League of Nations will be defeated."

"Upon this fundamental question they will accept no compromise. The sooner the Republican party finds it out the better it will be for the future of the party and of this country."

Democrats did not seem to be much pleased at Mr. Hoover's lead.

Under the plan newly elected delegates would be taken to an anteroom by the Card and Label Committee and searched. ## HOT RENT WAR IN WISCONSIN.

Governor's Committee Holds First Session Today.

Tenants Form League to Fight the Cougers.

"Sit Tight and Fight" Their Proposed Slogan.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
MILWAUKEE, April 6.—Gov. Phillips' rent war committee will hold its first official meeting in the City Attorney's office tomorrow. The committee will conduct an investigation into the increased cost of rents.
A tenants' union to protect renters against gouging landlords was organized last night among residents of the Welton and Ridge apartments. The organization, known as the "Tenants' Protective League," has opened headquarters in a downtown office building. Every tenant in the city or county will be eligible. "Sit tight and fight, if necessary," is the slogan, if adopted.
"It is now up to the tenants whether they will be bluffed by bulldozing landlords or not together to protect their rights," declared S. S. Jacobs, a member of the Executive Committee. "This league will have a membership of 300 within a day or two, and by the time a permanent organization is formed we expect to have several thousand members enrolled."
"A staff of lawyers will be retained to protect tenants. Several demonstrations will be staged this week and a squad of 'four-minute men' will be enlisted to put our case before the people at every opportunity."
"We will make it a special point to get speedy action from Gov. Phillips' investigating committee and intend to lay our case before that body, whether invited to appear or not."
The Governor has requested the members of his investigating committee to arrange their private affairs so they will be able to devote two or three weeks to hearings on the high-rent situation. It is admitted that evidence produced at hearings here will warrant passage of protective laws by the Legislature at its special session.

EVICIONS ARE HALTED.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, April 6.—Baby carriages today blocked traffic in front of a Brooklyn Courthouse, so great was the throng of evicted tenants seeking relief under new laws designed to curb profiteering in rent.
Whole families went to court, the babies being left outside. When the parents emerged, having obtained time to hunt other apartments, their joy was not unminged with concern at the task of sorting out their children, many of whom had exchanged carriages by crawling from one to the other. Most of the landlords agreed to postpone evictions till July.
In Manhattan court more than 400 men, women and children engaged in an enthusiastic demonstration when the first of 150 rent complaints was given six months' stay of eviction. Tenants whose cases were awaiting hearing applauded Justice Prince and shouted their approval. Some stood on benches and waved their hats in joy.
Every tenant found his appeal to the court successful, the landlords being ordered to postpone evictions from one to six months.

BRIGAND WORRIES SAXONY.
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
BERLIN, April 6.—The exploits of the Communist brigand, Max Hoels, who has recently been holding up towns with the aid of an armed gang in five automobiles, have become so audacious that the Saxony government has decided Hoels must be crushed by military measures. Troops have been sent to capture him.

GOVERNMENT TO SELL MARE ISLAND SUPPLIES.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MARE ISLAND, April 6.—A board of survey, appraisal and sale was organized here yesterday to conduct the public sale at Mare Island of surplus navy stores in compliance with a department order directing the sale throughout the country of $22,000,000 worth of such stores by May 30.
It has not yet been decided whether the stores will be sold in the open market or by sealed proposals. It was considered probable that a store would be opened at Mare Island for the sale of clothing and groceries.

DIRECTORS ELECTED BY MILK PRODUCERS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SACRAMENTO, April 6.—The Northern California Milk Producers' Association at its annual meeting here yesterday attended by 700 members from all over Northern California, elected the following directors to serve during the coming year:
J. M. Henderson, Sacramento; F. H. Harvey, Galt; Frank Morris, Woodland; F. A. Machado, Gridley; W. A. Hand, Orland; A. J. Robson, Davis; Guy Folkes, Elk Grove; G. Gibson, Willows; J. A. Walker, Greenview.
The Capper-Hartman bill permitting farmers to organize co-operative associations, now before Congress, was endorsed.

SIBERIAN BOX CARS SOLDIER CLUBROOMS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, April 6.—"It required the ingenuity of a Yank, a Chicago boy, to convert box cars into club or parlor cars for the use of soldiers in the Polish Legion in Siberia," said G. Sidney Phelps, former general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. work in Russia, who is on his way to New York from Valdivostok.
"Lewis Convis was the man, and he made five of these parlor cars for the troops. These club cars were rough, but mighty comfortable. Convis put in an extra car and filled the space with sawdust. This kept out the cold. Stoves were installed, a tea counter put up at one end, and with chairs, books and a phonograph, the club car was complete."
"There are 50,000 Czechoslovak soldiers on duty in Siberia and three Chicago men are working with them. The soldiers call them the 'American uncles.' They never hear their real names any more."

ANOTHER URUGUAYAN DUEL IS IMPENDING.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay), April 6.—The city of Montevideo, which was the scene of a recent fatal duel between Jose Batlle Y Ordoñez, former President of Uruguay, and Washington Beltrán, editor of El Pais, in which the latter was killed, may witness another "affair of honor" of an international aspect.
This depends upon the acceptance by the Argentine, Fernando Saguer, of a challenge reported to have been sent to him by Jose de Souza Lago, editor of the Brazilian newspaper O Pais of Rio Janeiro.
The newspaper accounts of the incident say Senor Lago considers his honor impugned by an article written by Saguer.
It is not announced whether Senor Saguer has accepted the challenge.

INVESTIGATE ALLEGED POOL IN MAY CORN.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
CHICAGO, April 6.—Alleged manipulation of corn in the Chicago market and existence of a pool to corner May corn will be investigated by the Federal grand jury which meets this afternoon. It was announced today.
Reliable sources at the Federal building declared that an investigation by the Department of Justice had already disclosed evidence of the alleged conspiracy.
Corn yesterday sold at $1.67 7-8, a record price for the year, and 45 cents above the price on February 1 last. One result of yesterday's high price was the closing of the brokerage firm of E. M. Hays & Company, which announced its inability to protect its open trades on the floor.

A SPECIAL MEDICAL SERVICE FOR FLYERS.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—Creation of a special "aviation medical service" in the army Medical Corps is expected materially to reduce fatalities among flyers on active service, according to an official announcement.
Statistics compiled by British military authorities were quoted as showing that during the first year of the war 30 per cent of the deaths among British aviators were recorded as due to physical defects of pilots, 8 per cent to defective planes and 2 per cent to enemy activity.
After the establishment of the air medical service, which made a special study of the qualifications necessary in an aviator, the percentage of deaths due to the faults of the pilots was reduced to 12.

HISTORIC EVENTS HAVE ANNIVERSARY.

Three years ago the United States declared war on Germany.
Miners Refuse to Return.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WHEELING (W. Va.) April 6.—Three thousand Eastern Ohio coal miners who struck last Friday refused to enter the mine yesterday in spite of the efforts of union leaders to have the men call off the walkout. The miners expressed dissatisfaction with the manner in which the 37 per cent wage increase was applied.

Kentucky Bank is Robbed.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CAVE CITY (Ky.) April 6.—Two men entered the People's Bank here this afternoon, locked President S. C. Caldwell, the only occupant of the banking room, in a vault, and escaped in an automobile with $8000.

Indiana Women Not to Vote.

Edwin A. Meserve, candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, was the speaker and teacher at the weekly conference of Republican State and county Central Committee women at the Union League Building, yesterday.

Mr. Meserve was asked to speak on "What the Republican Party Stands for in the Present Campaign," and in a logical resume of the history and past principles of the Republican party he named its principles for today.

"First of all it stands for America and what we know today as Americanism," he said. "We believe in organized work within the party. Republican Presidents have always chosen the best men for their Cabinet and not men who will merely rubber stamp their own orders, as is the policy today in Washington, with threats of removal if the order is not indorsed. Our party stands against antagonism to law. We insist upon obedience to law. We believe no organization has the right to bring about legislation that favors that organization alone.

"The party still stands for tariff for protection; a well-equipped merchant marine; equal rights of men and women, and for a strong foreign policy, that the flag shall mean not only a symbol of freedom, but a guarantee of protection in foreign lands. The Republican party stands squarely for the League of Nations," so Mr. Meserve eloquently ended his talk, showing how this latter issue logically is a principle of the Republican party.

After his address Mr. Meserve answered questions which manifested intelligent interest and enthusiasm.

Philanthropy and Civic Club. "Homemaking. Instead of Housekeeping" was the attractive subject of Mrs. Claire Foster Conner's address, yesterday, at the afternoon session of the Philanthropy and Civic Club, at the Elks' lodge rooms.

A hundred women were present for the sewing in the morning, at which time each week an average of twenty-five garments for children are made for the poor of the city. Three hundred garments have been made since January and the club is now assisting seven young people to gain an education in Los Angeles.

The card party for the scholarship fund will be given tomorrow at the usual meeting place. Mrs. Judson Mitchell is chairman of arrangements for this function and already a large number of tables have been spoken for.

Highland Park Ethel. Literature and drama day was enjoyed at the Highland Park Ethel Club, yesterday morning, beginning at 10 o'clock. Miss Gertrude Darlow read original poems by request and Mrs. Herbert Carr, chairman of the day, reviewed "The Great Hunt" by John Boler.

Mrs. E. H. Whitehorn sang a group of songs, "A Star," "Dearest," and "At Dawn," the latter by Cadman.

League of American Penwomen. At the home of the president, Mrs. James Heustlin, the Los Angeles branch of the League of American Penwomen met yesterday afternoon. Although only three months old, the community of writers of the city are manifesting an active interest in this organization. Only professional penwomen are eligible to membership and the meetings have proved of interest to the affiliated women.

Aragon P.T.A. The monthly meeting of the Aragon-avenue Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the kindergarten room at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Miss Snow Longley of the Arlington Heights School will speak on "The Value of the Parent-Teacher Association, to the School." This talk will be of unusual interest to mothers and a large attendance is desired. The school orchestra and Miss Jessie Hardisty's room will furnish music. Refreshments will be served.

Co-operation Club. The meeting of the Co-operation Club, tomorrow evening, will be followed by a programme of music and dancing at 8 p.m. The place is 717 East Ninth street. The subject of Mrs. Eva Rugg Garrison's talk at the regular session will be "Americanization." She plans to dwell particularly upon the foreign invasion in her talk.

Women's Alliance. The speakers before the Women's Alliance, which meets at 925 South Flower street, tomorrow afternoon, will be Mrs. C. C. Noble and Mrs. W. G. Wallis, instructor of physical training at the University of California. Mrs. Wallis' subject will be "School Day Dangers."

Will Serve Dinner. Columbus Circle Club will serve dinner at noon today in Patriotic Hall. There will be cards in the afternoon.

BARROW'S SPEAKER IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

VICTORIA (B. C.) April 6.—Bolshevism was described as thoroughgoing communism and an "effort to destroy representative government," by David Barrow president of the University of California, in an address before the Pacific Northwest convention of Rotary Clubs.

Dr. Barrow made a plea for closer co-operation between Great Britain and the United States to combat the forces of unrest and aid in stabilizing world conditions.

Second Church Members at Long Beach Divided.

Organize New Committee to Distribute Literature.

Statement is Issued to Make Position Clear.

The following statement was issued yesterday by a newly-organized committee on distribution of Long Beach Christian Scientists:

"Anent the controversy in the Christian Science church, one of the effects of which is the boycott of the periodicals on the part of branch churches and individuals to an extent declared by the trustees of the publishing society as not as serious as has been reported in the columns of the press, the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, of Long Beach, has taken such action and discontinued its support of the literature.

"This has resulted in the discontinuance of the activities of the distribution committee of that church, notwithstanding the decision in the matter by no means represented unanimously of thought on the part of its members, a considerable number of whom voted against such action. These members, together with other members of the mother church interested, feeling that the free distribution of the literature should not be halted, met to discuss the matter recently, and have voluntarily organized a Christian Science distribution committee to carry on the work in Long Beach heretofore under the jurisdiction of the second church.

"It is understood that the first church of Long Beach has not taken action in the matter, and that the work of its own committee continues.

"Announcement will be made later of completion of arrangements by this new committee, in order that those desirous of doing so may cooperate in the support and extension of the work."

MUSIC CHIEF WEDS.

Leader of Venice Orchestra, Son of Ex-Mayor, a Bridegroom.

Lew E. Lewis, the leader of the Venice Orchestra and a son of Julian J. Lewis, former Trustee and Mayor of the beach city, was married yesterday to Mrs. Jeanne M. Mahomet of Venice. The ceremony was performed at the Courthouse by Justice Summerfield, with friends of bride and groom as witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will reside at 3148 Placito place, Venice, after a short honeymoon trip.

Witnesses to the ceremony were Mrs. Kate R. Lewis, mother of the groom, and George J. Cleveland of the Abbott Kinney Company, a brother-in-law of the bride. Others present were Mrs. Fred Corbett, Arthur and Vivian Traxler, Violet Lewis McGill, Welome and Franklin Lewis, Ada Cleveland, Catherine Lewis, Fred Corbett, R. R. Dill, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lewis, parents of the groom.

PRODUCER SUED FOR DAMAGES BY AUTHOR.

A complaint by Anna B. Briggs against Frank C. Egan, filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday, asserts that the plaintiff entered into an agreement with the defendant for the production of a play written by herself entitled "The Courts of Justice."

She says she advanced Mr. Egan $500 and a promissory note for $400 and that she received from the box receipts only $20. The suit is to recover $500 and $1000 damages, on the claim that she has been injured in her profession and her reputation.

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH SAYS CRESCENT PASTEURIZED MILK IS BEST

Crescent Milk, pasteurized in the bottle, has won first place after an investigation by the City Board of Health covering four months.

Every dairy selling milk in Los Angeles and vicinity was scored in this contest and Crescent Milk pasteurized in the bottle received first place with a remarkably high score of 96.2.

Also, Arden Certified Milk, sold exclusively by the Crescent Creamery Company, won first place in its class.

Crescent Milk is sealed in the bottle with a hooded metal cap which absolutely protects the pouring edge against contamination.

Crescent Milk is pasteurized in the bottle. This is the most advanced and scientific method of pasteurization.

Every Crescent Milk bottle is thoroughly washed and sterilized.

Los Angeles has the highest milk standard of any city in the Country, and

MICHIGAN'S PRIMARY.
Senator Johnson has made his first killing. He has carried the Michigan Presidential preference primary by a substantial plurality. While this result had been anticipated and discounted by the other candidates, nevertheless it gives his friends a needed opportunity to crow.

Michigan was the strongest Progressive State in the nation. It gave Roosevelt and Johnson a clear majority over both Taft and Wilson in 1912. In the present campaign Fred M. Alger, Taft's manager in 1912, was in charge of the Wood campaign. The former Progressives seem to have represented this choice by voting for Johnson. The Nonpartisan League is strong in the country districts of Michigan and the labor vote in Detroit, Grand Rapids and other industrial communities went for Johnson. It was a case where "many a mickle makes a muckle." The falling-off of the Wood vote is also probably due in part to the reaction against the widely-circulated report that large sums of money are being used in the Wood campaign.

Politics in Michigan were in a chaotic condition, due largely to the conviction of Senator Newberry on a charge of fraudulent expenditure of money to secure his election. The Daitymple raid also figured. Daitymple attempted to formulate sumptuary dry laws and to make arrests under them without properly issued warrants. The people of the State objected, as is shown by the large Democratic vote for Edwards of New Jersey, who is making a campaign on the "wet" issue.

While Senator Johnson has carried the State-wide Presidential preference primary, he has still to win the State convention of Michigan. The election laws of Michigan are fearfully and wonderfully made. The delegates to the national convention are selected at a State convention. Delegates to that convention are elected in caucuses and are not voted for in the primaries. The four delegates at large are elected by the whole convention, and the delegates from the thirteen Congress districts at district conventions. The preference vote is not mandatory. The delegates are not bound to observe it; and it is the rule in States where preferential primaries are held for the district conventions to insure delegates according to the preference vote in the different districts. It is not yet clear whether Wood carried part of the Congress districts. If he did so, there is likely to be a divided delegation from Michigan to the Republican National Convention.

But this does not detract from the fact that Senator Johnson is the choice of the plurality of the Michigan Republicans who took part in the Presidential preference primary. A majority of the Michigan delegation will be for Johnson, possibly the whole of it. The Times is not in sympathy with many of the things for which Senator Johnson stands, but it would be unalterably opposed to any attempt on the part of the Michigan State Convention to thwart the expressed will of the people of Michigan. If Senator Johnson, however, cannot carry any States but those which went for Roosevelt and Johnson in 1912—and he has already lost one of them—he will not cut much of a figure in the Republican National Convention.

Democrats in Michigan are in a sad fix. Hoover seems to have carried the Presidential preference primary, although he has announced that he does not desire either the Democratic or an independent nomination. Gov. Edwards is second and Bryan is away down on the list, proving that the "wet" issue will not down in Democratic politics. What is the Democratic State Convention to do? It cannot well instruct for Hoover, who has said in advance he doesn't want the Democratic nomination, and Michigan is "dry" by State enactment without regard to the national prohibition amendment. This complex situation shows the futility of Presidential preference primaries.

Hoover received a large vote in the Republican primary, although there was no organized campaign made for him. The fight was between Wood and Johnson, two former Progressives, and Johnson won. It looks as if the danger of lack of cohesion which Hoover's supporters in California will do well to heed. Without organization in politics success is almost impossible. Hoover carried the Democratic primary because the only organization for any other candidate was that for Gov. Edwards. He failed in the Republican primary because his unorganized supporters were pitted against an organized opposition.

LABOR MUST PLAY FAIR.
Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank of New York and owner of much valuable property in the vicinity of Los Angeles, has warned the country that its great prosperity is dangerous. He gives as one of his reasons for this pessimism the fact that labor is only 60 per cent efficient. This view is shared by a large number of employers. It has been the subject of comment at meetings in Los Angeles. The falling off of productivity shows that in many cases labor is not playing fair; for wages are higher than they ever have been, yet the service given is less than before the war. It has been said that if every man would increase his output 25 per cent the high cost of living would be materially reduced, for the supply would then be commensurate with the demand and prices must fall. For the sake of his own pockets, then, all labor would be well advised to deal honestly with employers. It would almost appear at times as if there was a plot among organized workers to "soldier" on the job. It has been observed not only in this country, but in Europe. Over there, there is not only an indication to shirk work, but also a growing desire to avoid it altogether. Some of the nations say that their powers of production have been crippled by the war, but the real reason for the failure to reach the expected stage of output is to be found in the unwillingness to give a dollar's worth of work for a dollar.

CHIEF OF THE SELFISH.
The portable house in Chicago further illustrates the selfish inconsistency of the average labor union. There are not near enough carpenters in the city to supply the demand. They can all be guaranteed work for a year ahead. There is such a demand for homes that some families are almost on the streets. Even tents are in service now that the weather is moderating. But the introduction of ready-built houses that can be quickly put up by a couple of mechanics has been "forbidden" by the Carpenters' Union, and other unions have joined in the boycott. The portable houses are made by union labor and are needed as homes of union workers, but nevertheless they must not be admitted to Chicago because in three or four years from now the city may catch up on its building programme and then the union carpenters would not be in position to demand $10 a day for leading on their jobs. The next thing in order the Chicago tailors will be "forbidding" the male citizens from wearing ready-made suits, and if a man cannot wait until the tailors get their schedules adjusted and get to work he will have to run around naked for a few weeks or carry a blanket. In Southern California a man can dispense with a carpenter and tailor and still live, but it is pretty tough on the dweller in Chicago to have to await the pleasure of a bunch of union workers whose ambition is to do as little as they can for the world and take the most out of it.

Under the new regime who are to fill the drunkards' graves?

MILLS COLLEGE.
Mills College, one of the leading colleges of the West devoted exclusively to the education of women, will open a drive on April 15 for $20,000,000 to be used in furthering the work of that institution. "A western lady" by the name of Mrs. W. W. Mills, who has been in California for some time, is the driving force behind the drive. All California is asked to rally to the support of this college, which is the one distinctive woman's college in the State.

Mills began in the early seventies as a young ladies' seminary—something now as extinct as the dodo. But even in those ante and anti-suffrage days, when the new woman was just beginning to break through the alien chrysalis in which the chivalry of the nation had enshrouded her, the school was not content to give merely the trills and ornaments of education as did so many of the seminaries of the day. Its founders were the Rev. Cyrus T. Mills, graduate of Williams College, and his wife, Susan L. Mills, who had been a student at Mt. Holyoke under the gentle-hearted, strong-minded Mary Lyon, a pioneer in the newer education of women. These two indelibly stamped on Mills their own sense of duty. A liberal education for women was their aim—an education not less thorough and intensive than that afforded their brothers in colleges and universities of highest rank.

Until 1877 Mills Seminary was a private-owned institution. In that year Dr. and Mrs. Mills decided to a board of trustees, which has presided faithfully the high educational ideals of the founders, while it has broadened the course of study and advanced the methods of instruction to meet the demands of the more complex life of today.

Certain rather well-defined standards are demanded of the educational institution that would be abreast of the times. Among these are liberal and inspiring surroundings; a modern, well-equipped plant; high educational ideals and accomplishments; and energetic, distinguished leadership.

The activity of Sir Oliver Lodge and Conan Doyle in the spirit and ghost lines brings up the question, is the belief in ghosts and fear of returned spirits quite eradicated from the human mind?

Mills alumnae can truthfully claim all of these for their alma mater.

Mills College is beautifully located in the Alameda foothills, far enough removed from San Francisco to escape its disagreeable fogs and its everlasting winds. The campus is large, is beautifully wooded, has broad, rolling lawns and inspiring view. A compact group of buildings, to which the venerable Mills Hall gives dignity and backbone, includes attractive residence halls, a science hall, library, gymnasium and an applied arts building. Its educational standing is attested by the fact that undergraduate work at Mills is credited in the leading colleges and universities of the country and that its graduates are admitted to advanced study to the universities of this and other countries on the same basis as those of other members of the Association of American Universities. Since 1916 Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt has been president of Mills. Enthusiastic, energetic, gifted with the power of leadership, Dr. Reinhardt is well qualified to extend the influence of Mills until California's one college for women shall become as well known as are such eastern colleges as Vassar, Wellesley, Smith and Bryn Mawr.

VANDALISM AND TAHOE.
Using the Federal Reclamation Service as their ally, the power companies of Northern California are again seeking to make use of the waters stored in Lake Tahoe by converting the lake into a mud flat. They have proceeded so far that the reclamation service has asked an appropriation from Congress to permanently lower the lake level.

That the waters of beautiful Lake Tahoe have a commercial value is indisputable; but destroying the scenic gem of the Sierras for commercial advantage would be an act of vandalism that recalls the custom of the Germans during the war of sending human bodies through reduction plants to extract the glycerine and other useful products.

The trouble with most of those Federal boards is that their headquarters are located in Washington and the members know little or nothing of the beauty or the grandeur of the terrain where an irrigation district is to be located. They view it only on blue prints; and blue prints are about as true to nature in her smiling moods as a wooden image is to a beautiful woman animated by love and life.

So the reclamation officials have lent an ear to the engineers of the power companies, and they are ready to go ahead and despoil Lake Tahoe, providing only that Congress will foot the bill. The engineers have about as much of a soul for beauty as the reclamation officials. They see a sunset on the lake, the rays falling between the branches of great pines as old as the pyramids and they are ready to cool their twilight lullabies and they figure with stubs of pencils on yellow paper how many kilowatts of power are going to waste. They see no more beauty in the landscape than Kipling saw in the woman whom he described as "a rag, a bone and a hank of hair." They are men who would put a dollar valuation on the Liberty Bell.

Some men have given their souls for sextants and tables of logarithms. But the spirit of the masses in California is not so sordid. Lake Tahoe is a part of the romantic life of the State. It is a possession of the whole people, a symbol of the spirit of true democracy. Who places a dollar value on its waters is worse than a heretic. If ever there was a time to invoke the doctrine of State rights it is when a government board attempts such a sacrilege as destroying the most beautiful lake in the Sierras in order to form a new irrigation district and help out a few power companies.

Reclamation is all very well in its way; but there are a million acres in California awaiting reclamation without encroaching on Lake Tahoe. Possibly a thousand years hence the population of California may be so great that it will be necessary to drain Lake Tahoe in order to feed them; but it is not at all probable. Such vandalism at the present time is unthinkable.

The activity of Sir Oliver Lodge and Conan Doyle in the spirit and ghost lines brings up the question, is the belief in ghosts and fear of returned spirits quite eradicated from the human mind?

Wonder what has become of Emma Goldman since she held that old-time week celebration in Russia? Emma may be giving ukulele concerts to the villagers.

WHISPERS OF TREASON.
The I.W.W. and other insane advocates of anarchy are making themselves very busy now fanning the flames of discontent among ex-service men and women. They are paying particular attention to members of the American Legion and they would rejoice in the corruption of their councils. Bolshevists, in their craft and subtle way, are making use of the very same arguments that Benedict Arnold presented before the bar of his own conscience in justification of his treason. He also had grievances and was more discontented than the I.W.W. tell us we have a right to be. Benedict Arnold did not feel that the Continental Congress treated him justly. He had been passed over and insulted. Self-love and egotism mixed with righteously indignation, as it seemed to him, overcame his love of country and he fell into the abyss. Today our dilatory and somewhat bewildered Congress has not yet done its duty in connection with ex-service people. In the meantime wounded men and bereaved parents nurse a bitter resentment and their hearts are very sore. At this dangerous and psychological moment come the agencies of the Bolsheviki and I.W.W. whispering treason into the ears of the sufferers. They seek to make them followers of Benedict Arnold, in the name of a grievance, but in this case a genuine grievance; yes, and therein lies the devilish cunning of the attack. The grievance is real, but, few, if any, in the ranks of ex-service people should feel the implied insult to their citizenship and patriotism.

No better example of the wretched poetry that lurks in the heart of the I.W.W. could be found than this elemental appeal to suffering people at a moment when their sense of civic duty may be temporarily obscured by the bitterness of injustice. The ex-servicemen of the I.W.W. and Bolsheviki make use of this moment to preach the overthrow of the American institutions. They would place in the minds of patriotic people the secret germ of a desire to scrap the government itself when the only thing needed is a change in personnel within the halls of Congress. The enemies of pure Americanism harp on one string—always the same string. They sing in a monotone and hypnotize themselves by sheer repetition. They would change the FORM of government. Their representatives are and are about to be in the hands of the I.W.W. and other insane advocates of anarchy.

MORE PROFITEERING LIKELY.
A Salina girl has brought suit against a dentist of that city, alleging that he hugged and kissed her, and asked damages in the sum of $600. About the same time a California girl brought suit against a man in that State for the same offense and asked for $10,000. When we would like to ask, did the kisses of a California girl become more valuable than those of a Kansas girl? We demand that an investigation be held at once. We might add that we have no objection against serving as chairman of the investigating committee. —(Downs (Kan.) News.

TAFT ON SOLDIER BONUSES.
Ex-President Discusses Question of Extra Compensation to Soldiers and Takes Ground That Money Can't Be Raised.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.
That under its constitution and management conservative policies would be adopted.

For a time it devoted itself properly to arousing Congress to the necessity of making proper and ample provision for those wounded and incapacitated by the war. At the Minnesota convention the Legion declined affirmatively to recommend to Congress the passage of any bonus bill, but submitted it to Congress for its consideration. Now the Executive Committee has deemed it proper to appear and urge in behalf of the Legion the passage of such a bill.

Many points throughout the country have adopted resolutions against the granting of a bonus. Those who take the affirmative of such a proposition, however, have a natural advantage with the body of the membership, and there seems now little doubt that were a vote taken in another convention the bonus would be carried. This is to be regretted.

Let us hope that a clear perception of the serious injury that will be done to the country's finances by the enactment of such a bill at this time will cause the Congress and Senators courage to resist the pressure.

TAFT ON SOLDIER BONUSES.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

SHALL the government grant a bonus of more than $2,000,000,000 to the enlisted men of the late war? The argument in this behalf is that the enlisted men were paid only from $10 to $15 a month while men who did not enter the service received a very high wage and did not expose themselves to the dangers or privations of military life, and that now these brave and sacrificing veterans should be given something with which to tide over the period in which they must struggle to regain the earning status they had when they went to the war. The high cost of living, too, weighed upon the soldiers and sailors, whose dependents in any way incapacitated are already provided for by legislation directed to that end. While it may not be all that experience will show to be necessary, there will be no opposition to making the provision for them as complete as possible. But the question of measuring the loss or sacrifice made by soldiers who return home healthy and in good stead is quite different.

The effect of the interruption in their progress to success in trade or business or profession will be so minimized. They have been out of the army now for more than a year. Never in the history of the country was the demand for service such as they can render so exigent and never was compensation for such service higher. Individual instances of hardship can be pointed out perhaps, but it is not much to say as a general rule that every discharged soldier who returned home a year ago, who has wished to do so, has found employment at adequate wages and that the instances of enforced idleness or pinching poverty are few and far between.

All admit that the proposed payment is no measure of moral debt owed by the government to the veterans who have offered themselves and were willing to make the ultimate sacrifice for their country. It is a bonus and call that which is to be given them a "soldier's compensation." The point made is that they should receive from $10 to $15 a month instead of from $10 to $15 a day. The point made is that they should receive from $10 to $15 a month instead of from $10 to $15 a day. The point made is that they should receive from $10 to $15 a month instead of from $10 to $15 a day.

The issue made in respect to the bonus cannot turn on the mere question whether the country should measure in a post-war payment of dollars its debt to soldiers who fought for its life. Such a measurement is impossible and certainly should not be attempted in the present critical state of the country's finances. We are now facing a deficit of $1,000,000,000 in the current fiscal year. To grant the bonus will increase this deficit to at least $2,000,000,000. How can the government afford to provide? Each advocate of the bonus was interrogated by the Senate Finance Committee upon this question. The witnesses were inclined to put that responsibility on the committee, but various methods were suggested. One was that 4 per cent government bonds should be floated by the government and that bonds at the same rate of interest should be issued in proportion to the number of soldiers. The third was that the amount should be raised by increased surtaxes upon all having an income of more than $25,000.

Secretary Houston, Assistant Secretary Lathrop, Mr. Harding, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, were asked to appear before the committee and testify that an attempt of the government to float $2,000,000,000 more of bonds at 4 per cent interest would all but ruin the country. They testified that they were offered at a high rate or with greater tax exemption. They said, moreover, that the attempt to float so large an issue of bonds at the same or higher interest would greatly depress the more than $25,000,000,000 of bonds already issued, and that the 4-1/2 per cent bonds, which had been so widely distributed among people of very moderate means and were now quoted at 99, might be depressed to somewhere near 90, and that the market price of all the bonds would suffer a serious reduction. They said the effect necessarily would be a reduction in the value of the dollar and an increase in the cost of living. The proposal to distribute the bonds to the ex-service men directly was characterized by them as a vicious method because the bonds would be at once offered for sale by the beneficiaries and the discount from par would be much more rapid in such circumstances than if the bonds were to be issued by the Treasury, while the low price at which the beneficiaries must dispose of them would create a sense of injustice and dissatisfaction.

As to the method of raising $2,000,000,000 by imposing a greater surtax on incomes over $25,000, it was made clear by Mr. Lathrop that this would probably not increase the amount of taxes to be collected over that needed by the present rate. He said that surtaxes had already been so heavy that the incomes of rich men are now being invested in non-taxpaying securities—that is, in bonds issued by States, counties, and municipalities, and that the ease with which these bonds are floated has reduced the national extravagance in State and municipal expenditures.

Under these conditions it seems clear that the bonus should not be granted. There is no present emergency calling for immediate action. When the organization of the American Legion was proposed, the danger that it might drift into an association for the purpose of organizing demands upon Congress for such a bonus was present in the minds of many, but assurances were given that under its constitution and management conservative policies would be adopted.

For a time it devoted itself properly to arousing Congress to the necessity of making proper and ample provision for those wounded and incapacitated by the war. At the Minnesota convention the Legion declined affirmatively to recommend to Congress the passage of any bonus bill, but submitted it to Congress for its consideration. Now the Executive Committee has deemed it proper to appear and urge in behalf of the Legion the passage of such a bill.

TAFT ON SOLDIER BONUSES.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

SHALL the government grant a bonus of more than $2,000,000,000 to the enlisted men of the late war? The argument in this behalf is that the enlisted men were paid only from $10 to $15 a month while men who did not enter the service received a very high wage and did not expose themselves to the dangers or privations of military life, and that now these brave and sacrificing veterans should be given something with which to tide over the period in which they must struggle to regain the earning status they had when they went to the war. The high cost of living, too, weighed upon the soldiers and sailors, whose dependents in any way incapacitated are already provided for by legislation directed to that end. While it may not be all that experience will show to be necessary, there will be no opposition to making the provision for them as complete as possible. But the question of measuring the loss or sacrifice made by soldiers who return home healthy and in good stead is quite different.

The effect of the interruption in their progress to success in trade or business or profession will be so minimized. They have been out of the army now for more than a year. Never in the history of the country was the demand for service such as they can render so exigent and never was compensation for such service higher. Individual instances of hardship can be pointed out perhaps, but it is not much to say as a general rule that every discharged soldier who returned home a year ago, who has wished to do so, has found employment at adequate wages and that the instances of enforced idleness or pinching poverty are few and far between.

All admit that the proposed payment is no measure of moral debt owed by the government to the veterans who have offered themselves and were willing to make the ultimate sacrifice for their country. It is a bonus and call that which is to be given them a "soldier's compensation." The point made is that they should receive from $10 to $15 a month instead of from $10 to $15 a day. The point made is that they should receive from $10 to $15 a month instead of from $10 to $15 a day.

The issue made in respect to the bonus cannot turn on the mere question whether the country should measure in a post-war payment of dollars its debt to soldiers who fought for its life. Such a measurement is impossible and certainly should not be attempted in the present critical state of the country's finances. We are now facing a deficit of $1,000,000,000 in the current fiscal year. To grant the bonus will increase this deficit to at least $2,000,000,000. How can the government afford to provide? Each advocate of the bonus was interrogated by the Senate Finance Committee upon this question. The witnesses were inclined to put that responsibility on the committee, but various methods were suggested. One was that 4 per cent government bonds should be floated by the government and that bonds at the same rate of interest should be issued in proportion to the number of soldiers. The third was that the amount should be raised by increased surtaxes upon all having an income of more than $25,000.

Secretary Houston, Assistant Secretary Lathrop, Mr. Harding, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, were asked to appear before the committee and testify that an attempt of the government to float $2,000,000,000 more of bonds at 4 per cent interest would all but ruin the country. They testified that they were offered at a high rate or with greater tax exemption. They said, moreover, that the attempt to float so large an issue of bonds at the same or higher interest would greatly depress the more than $25,000,000,000 of bonds already issued, and that the 4-1/2 per cent bonds, which had been so widely distributed among people of very moderate means and were now quoted at 99, might be depressed to somewhere near 90, and that the market price of all the bonds would suffer a serious reduction. Senator Committee Approves Project; Action by House to Follow.

The Senate Naval Affairs Committee yesterday authorized the construction of a submarine base at Los Angeles Harbor, according to a telegram received last evening by Mayor Snyder from Congressman Osborne. The Senate committee made an appropriation of $500,000 to be immediately available to start work on the station, the total cost of which is estimated at $1,000,000.

The action of the Senate committee was taken on motion of Senator Phelan, and came in the form of an amendment to the general naval appropriation bill. The House has before it Congressman Osborne's bill which accords with the Senate resolution.

Mayor Snyder will this morning send to the Council the telegram of Congressman Osborne with the request that the Congressman's suggestion that telegrams be sent to the members of the House Naval Affairs Committee urging them to agree to the Senate amendment, be adopted. If the House committee takes this action, it will bring the Phelan amendment before the House with a strong probability that it will be passed, assuring Los Angeles of the submarine base.

FANS GALORE AT BIG GAME.

Rank and File of Angel Supporters on Hand Early.

Majority Were Optimistic, but Soon Grew Sad.

Megaphones Bobbed up Only at End of Contest.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Bugs, fans, devotees and baseball followers of all ages and descriptions were on hand good and early yesterday afternoon at Washington Park to add their little bits of support to the great national pastime.

As early as 2 o'clock the reserved seat section along box row was pretty well occupied. Many of the times fans carried megaphones, but in the light of the score could hardly have enjoyed a lung brace or two until almost the death of the game.

The majority were optimistic—it was essentially a heavenly assemblage—angelic success fairly glittered in every part of the spacious grand stand.

One of the first to throw a slant into the stand was Will Wyatt, the big wig at the Mason Opera-house. Will was buoyant-garulous and carried a mighty parcel of handshakes which he doled right and left from Johnny Powers's private box.

ON HIS HEELS.

On his heels trudged Francis Patrick Shanley all ablaze with good fellowship. Shan got his calendar twisted in some uncanny way and during the mental knot, put on a new straw hat that boldly challenged up-to-dateness to every one that secretly pulled a sly wink at its untimeliness. Shan soon slid into Windom Row where he fell foul of Gene Doyle in a gab-fest and consequently ran second with a verbal bowed tendon.

Megaphones Bobbed up Only at End of Contest.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Bugs, fans, devotees and baseball followers of all ages and descriptions were on hand good and early yesterday afternoon at Washington Park to add their little bits of support to the great national pastime.

As early as 2 o'clock the reserved seat section along box row was pretty well occupied. Many of the times fans carried megaphones, but in the light of the score could hardly have enjoyed a lung brace or two until almost the death of the game.

The majority were optimistic—it was essentially a heavenly assemblage—angelic success fairly glittered in every part of the spacious grand stand.

One of the first to throw a slant into the stand was Will Wyatt, the big wig at the Mason Opera-house. Will was buoyant-garulous and carried a mighty parcel of handshakes which he doled right and left from Johnny Powers's private box.

ON HIS HEELS.

On his heels trudged Francis Patrick Shanley all ablaze with good fellowship. Shan got his calendar twisted in some uncanny way and during the mental knot, put on a new straw hat that boldly challenged up-to-dateness to every one that secretly pulled a sly wink at its untimeliness. Shan soon slid into Windom Row where he fell foul of Gene Doyle in a gab-fest and consequently ran second with a verbal bowed tendon.

MAROON BASEBALL TEAM TO JAPAN.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The University of Chicago baseball team will start tonight on its third trip to Japan. Previous trips were made in 1910 and 1915.

The Maroon team which invaded Japan previously started at the end of the baseball season. They won twenty-two games without suffering a defeat.

KRUVOVSKY FAILS TO STOP CLIFF JORDAN.

Keyo Krivosky of San Francisco started out like a house afire against Cliff Jordan in the main event at Vernon last night, but the reliable Cliff was there at the finish. The bout was declared a draw. The Bay City boxer had the first two rounds, and Jordan the last two.

In the semi-windup Charley Roselli won all the way from Sailor Kramer, boxing instead of slugging as was the case last week. Jimmy Pappas and Joe Rooney scrapped to a draw, as did Red Brennan and Ted Titus in the preliminary.

Battler Savage knocked out One-round Andrews in the second round, and Lee Morrissey won the decision from Jack Smith after twice knocking his opponent to the mat for the count of nine.

BOXING BOUTS HUGE SUCCESS.

Many Former Title Holders are Defeated in Trials.

Tommy Murphy Regains His Place Among Champions.

Gale Farquhar is Defeated in Semi-Finals.

BOSTON, April 6.—A group of champions regarded as excellent possibilities for selection as representatives of America at the Olympic games were defeated at the national amateur boxing tournament which closed here tonight. Six were now champions while two of last year's winners who tried to retain their laurels were beaten.

Tommy Murphy of Kansas City returned to the title list on which he appeared three years ago, and Sam Laogha of New York repeated his success of last year.

Principal interest in the closing bouts of the tournament centered in the game attempt of Edward Egan, Yale's husky boxing leader, to retain the heavyweight title which he won last year and gain also the 175-pound crown. He went down to defeat his opponent to the mat for the count of nine.

OAKS TREAT OUR ANGELS ROUGH.

Visiting Athletes Mangle Red Killefer's Baseball Team and Walk Off Victorious in Opening Act; Ten Thousand Fans Assist in Launching the 1920 Season.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

There was just one flaw in yesterday's fancy opening, and that was the failure of Los Angeles to win.

Oakland busted open the new-born season by trimming the Angels, 9 to 4, in nine dark and shady innings.

Technically the opening game of the season, the occasion will go down in history as "Pitchers' Day." The game was largely dedicated to their use. No less than seven assorted heavies were cast into the roaring pastime, and four of those furnishing fuel for the batters were Los Angeles uniforms.

OUT IN THIRD.

Lefty Thomas went out in the third round, when already so soon they had combed him for five runs. So soon Bill Portica looked the best of the lot, allowing only one run, but baseball strategy demanded that he be taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Toots Schultz took hold in the ninth.

Toots' tooter didn't seem to be working. His appearance was the signal for another outbreak on the park of Oakland which netted three runs. Nick Domovich finished what was left of the game. Killefer had nobody warming up in the bull pen when Nick was pitching. He trusted to the kid to stick it out, having heard that Nick is good at taking them the chin. And Mr. Domovich didn't disappoint.

IN FIRST THREE.

Oakland won the game in the first three rounds, and continued doing the same at frequent intervals throughout the day. Thomas wasn't any nearer right than the Kaiser. In the first round he balked a run over the plate, and the second he let two across with a throw to right field which was supposed to be aimed at first base. It was the wildest wild throw ever witnessed since Harl Margert tried to throw Doc Finley out of the sixth-story window. That night Margert is believed to have been hit by a trifle wilder than Lefty was yesterday.

Seven rounds, Carl Holling had the Angels eating out of his hand and meekly mumbling their thanks for that which they were unable to get. But they caught the Holling party with his guard down in the eighth, and cruelly stung the hand which had nothing wrong while rapid firing by McDonald, Griggs and Crawford jarred Holling loose, after he had sought to calm himself with walking Bassler. Del Howard immediately switched a G. Winn, a typical left-hander, but this didn't prevent Jack Knight from cutting loose a wild throw.

Possibly the sight of a wild south-paw made Jack wild. These things have been known to happen. The job was found to be too big for G. Winn after he had pitched to one and one-quarter batters, and he remained for Ray Kremer to quell the riot. But by the time Ray arrived the count was 6 to 4, and for the first time it had the healthy complexion of a contest.

Kremer quelled the riot all right, but started one of his own in the ninth when he knocked a triple out of Schultz with two on. This was not the straw, but the bale of hay, which broke the Angels' back. Toots tried to sneak a fat one over the plate, but he was too late. Both eyes open at the time.

BASES FULL.

The game ended with the bases full of Angels, and the air loaded with cushions. Also, spectators were out mingling with the outfielders when the last gun was fired. Scores, yes hundreds, flocked on to the wide open field as though no such thing as the great national pastime was in progress. Cushions, pop bottles and other bric-a-brac were heaved into the arena, and the game began to look like a bachelors' picnic. Believing it useless to attempt to cope with the human mavericks, the umpires allowed the game to proceed while thickly populated with innocent bystanders.

As President Powers said after the battle's roar, the umpires would have been justified in forfeiting the game to Oakland because of this congestion. But the umpire could see no story in awarding something to the Oakland side, and he was in the mood to take its course, and the game ended in the usual manner by the Angels getting no more runs.

A BAD DAY.

That it was to be a bad day for the Angels became apparent as early as 2:15 p.m., when Lieut. Ormer Locklear, the successful suicide, began to sling baseballs at them out of his low-flying airplane. Four times the daring aviator gently heaved a baseball overboard. Two of the balls dropped on barren ground. Another time, Griggs and Bassler ran together. Both touched the ball, but neither caught it. The fourth ball was aimed directly at Killefer. Red caught it on his chest, which didn't count in the cup competition. Thus, the trophy offered by George Cline remained unclaimed.

OAKS TREAT ANGELS ROUGH.

After Locklear had subside to the relief of all present, the American flag was unfurled in right field after being carried across the field by the combined teams led by a band and followed by Mayor Snyder and Sheriff Cline. The annual ball-throwing contest was then put on. This was done in an errorless manner and in a way to uplift the game. The Mayor threw what looked to be a perfect strike until it began to sag at the outer end, but the Sheriff being a man of quick action saved the day by going out to meet the ball. (Great applause.)

GAVE A HINT.

Thomas gave a hint that his control might not be all there when he opened by throwing a wide one to Lane. The next one also was a ball. Then came a strike. But there were to be neither balls nor strikes any more as far as Lane was concerned. He scored the next one past third for two bases and took third when McDonald fouled the drive in left. Thomas then fanned Zelder, and seemed working his way into the clear when Willie fouled to Griggs.

Hack Miller was given nothing good to hit, and walked. Thomas caught him off first. During the run down, Lane started for the plate, and was caught by Crandall's throw to Basler. But Phyle called the throw to first a ball. So the run was allowed to count, and Miller, who had reached second, remained there. Knight lined to Crawford, who made a nice catch.

RATTLED HIM.

The calling of this talk seemed to befuddle Thomas. He opened the second by passing Guisto, and soaked Pop Arlett. Mize bunted. Thomas fumbled the ball instantaneously, and then made his celebrated heave into right field. Guisto and Arlett scored and Mize went to third, while Crawford was doing his best to get out of the distant corner. Mize was caught at the plate on a squeeze that failed. Holling fanned and Lane fouled out.

Singles by Zelder and Miller, sandwiching a walk by Willie in the third, put a run across, and two on, likewise spelling the finish of Thomas. With Pertica pitching, Knight scored Willie with a fly to Killefer. Miller was tagged stealing, and Guisto went out to McDonald.

PASSES LANE.

Solemn Bill then got along all right until the fifth, when he started by walking Lane. Zelder and Willie sacrificed Lane to third, and Miller singled him across.
Without exception the Angels had one or more men on base, and were unable to penetrate to the plate until the eighth. McDonald opened the assault with a single through Guisto that Louie thought was a fluke. A three-inch shell, Sandow Griggs doubled over the dome of Miller, putting McDonald on third. Crawford scored both men with a single to right. Basler walked.

SOME HEAVE.

Holling then coasted pitching. Then came the left-handed stuff of G. Winn. Crandall drove to Knight. Jack heaved considerably over Guisto, and far ahead. Crawford counted. Basler took third and Crandall landed at second. After G. Winn had pitched one ball to Niehoff, Kremer was sent in. The change didn't do Bart any good as he grounded to Zelder, although Basler slipped in on the play at first. Lapan, batting for Pertica, tried to Lane, but there was nobody on third to score. Killefer retired, Zelder to Guisto.

Two passes by Schultz in the ninth, with a sacrifice in between, were followed by the slaughter of the aforementioned fat one by Kremer for three bases. Dumovich then went in, walked a guy and got hit by Zelder, these events resulting in another run. The youngster was cool amid all these happenings, and this pleased Red, who is accustomed to seeing bushers get hit and blow up. Lane was nailed at the plate on an attempted double steal, and Willie tried to Crawford.

An error by Zelder, a hit batman and a walk in the ninth with two down filled the bases with Angels and the grounds with innocent bystanders. But the vital spark was not there. Crandall grounded to Knight, and it was curtains. The score:

of Scientific Carpet Cleaning and Color Restoration

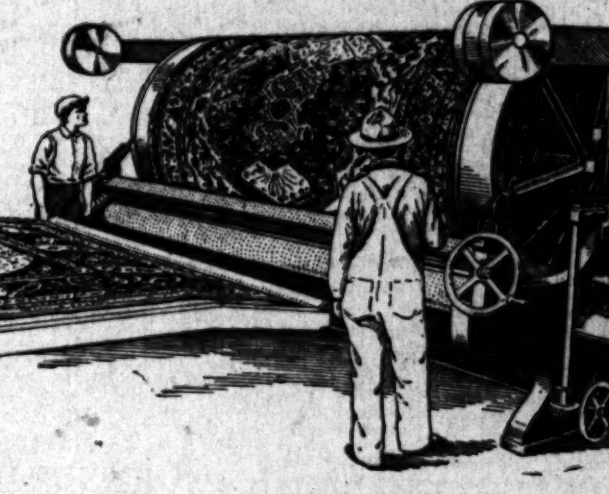

Your pride in your home is reflected in its cleanliness. Stained and soiled carpets and rugs create an impression of slovenliness and are a source of unhappiness.

By the special Jenkins process we restore soiled and spotted rugs to their original brightness and beauty. We feel a pardonable pride in our ability to do rug and carpet cleaning of a quality unsurpassed in the United States.

Our rug and carpet cleaning equipment represents an investment of $50,000. Do you suppose we would have gone to this expense if it had been possible to produce work of the highest quality by cheap methods?

Last year more than eighty thousand people were benefited by our rug and carpet cleaning service.

We will call for, clean and deliver your rugs and carpets at a very moderate cost. A phone call will bring one of our experts who will estimate the charge for doing whatever work you require.

Our expert weavers re-weave worn and frayed spots in Oriental and other rugs so that the repair is not visible except under the closest examination. In this way rugs that might otherwise have to be discarded are made practically "as good as new."

The cleaning materials used in the Jenkins process are the very purest obtainable. The soap is of a finer quality than many toilet soaps on the market, absolutely free of any injurious elements.

Before leaving our plant all the work is carefully inspected to make sure that it is thoroughly up to City Dye Works standard. It is by this minute and careful attention to details that we have developed the nationwide reputation of Jenkins service.

The Kind of Service You can't Measure with a Yard-Stick

The only thing the Weber Showcase & Fixture Co. has to sell is service.

The office furnishings we may have the privilege of putting in your offices are only incidental to that service.

The office furniture itself is worth its cost in proportion to the "service" it renders.

Service in this sense does not comprehend a desk as merely a work table, but as a fundamental factor that contributes to the pleasure, profit and satisfaction of its ownership, and to the enjoyment of association with it—all of which constitute service as we interpret it in its broader sense.

ARRAIGN BUNKO SUSPECTS.

Jointly with James F. Conley, said to be the informer in the case, with attempted grand larceny, but Conley did not appear in court and his name was not mentioned in the brief proceedings. His two supposed pals were held under $25,000 bail each, upon the request of Deputy District Attorney Hill. Preliminary examination was set for April 12.

The sudden court appearance of the two men, said to be the center of the present investigation, took place of the grand jury inquiry, which Dist. Atty. Woolwine has promised for the "proper time," but did not so far as the District Attorney was willing to indicate, eliminate it from his plans. Beyond saying that the grand jury will not be called today, Mr. Woolwine refused to discuss his immediate plans.

Mr. Woolwine is having Conley for his star witness before the grand jury, when it is called into session, was the construction placed in some quarters on the failure to arraign him with the other two defendants.

The Police Commission yesterday approved the suspension by Chief of Police Home of five detective sergeants accused of inactivity and inaction.

SEES BROADWAY BY AIRPLANE.
Change of Rockwell Flying Awaits Airman Who Put Crowds in Danger.

If you own and operate an airplane, keep it off Broadway. This is the friendly advice of Aero Club officials who are trying to learn the identity of the flyer who converted lower Broadway into an aviation field yesterday.

It is asserted by the Aero Club that the aviator in question flew along Broadway at a level below the tops of several office buildings, and that by so doing he imperiled the lives of thousands of people. All aviation camps are being canvassed to learn his identity.

If his name is learned, the officials say, the city prosecutor will be asked to issue a complaint charging him with reckless flying.

State Senator Lyman King of Redlands, Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will be tendered a reception this evening by Rising Sun Lodge, No. 392, at Stone Hall, First and Chicago streets. An invitation has been extended to all Odd Fellows to be present.

Senator King is an editor who served in an executive capacity with the Y.M.C.A. in France. During his absence all parties joined in his reelection to the State Senate because of his good record overseas.

Reputed Lover Changes Plea. Acknowledges Guilt.

Man Asks Probation and She is Given Immunity.

As a result of the efforts of the girl who peached on him, "John" Peaches, jewel thief, yesterday decided between the morning and afternoon sessions of Judge Craft's court to change his plea of not guilty to guilty of grand larceny in stealing $30,000 worth of bonds and $5000 in jewels from S. J. Ward, a retired capitalist, while the latter was a guest at the Occidental Hotel.

As a result the court dismissed a count of burglary, the penalty for which is from one to fifteen years while the grand larceny term is from one to ten. After pleading guilty, Powers asked for probation and the hearing was set for the 26th inst.

The bond thief's sudden change followed the efforts made by Dorothy Brown to obtain clemency for him. She pleaded for him with the District Attorney. She is the girl who was arrested on a charge of receiving some of the stolen jewels and upon whose testimony at the preliminary hearing Powers was held to answer in the morning and afternoon sessions of Judge Craft's court.

She won immunity by that evidence and the charge against her was dismissed. She lives with her mother at 318 Shorb street.

The girl, who is said to be still in love with Powers, said that the man went to her house one day and handed her a package, covered with a handkerchief. He asked her to look at it while he was in San Francisco. She carried the package with her several days and then, opening it, discovered a number of diamonds and jewelry. She said she buried them in the back yard of her home and later dug them up and gave them to the police. The case was prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Van Cott. Powers' attorneys were Guy Eddle and Claude Morton.

Four of the six men indicted for robbing Low Vong Ng of $401.50, under the guise of an alleged police raid, appeared before Judge Houser yesterday for arraignment. Mike O'Garra, a former policeman, and Earl Wray, out on bail, failed to come into court and will be arraigned tomorrow.

Walter E. Mortimer, a policeman, represented by Public Defender Wood, was given until tomorrow to plead. Mr. Wood stated that Mortimer would plead not guilty. Mortimer's bail, at the request of Mr. Wood, was reduced from $10,000 to $5000. The reduction was approved by Deputy Dist. Atty. Joss.

The ball of the other three defendants was similarly reduced. Ralph Childs pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for April 21. Jennie Elliott and Lee Hing will plead tomorrow. Childs is a garage man.

NEW PICKFORD STORM BREWS.

Pressure to Quash Inquiry
Revealed by Gov. Boyle.

Stung by Talk, Judge Langan
Asks Investigation.

Suit to Set Aside Divorce may be the Sequel.

Unusual pressure is being brought to bear, it developed yesterday, to stop the investigation by Nevada officials of the circumstances surrounding the divorce granted early last month in that State to Mary Pickford, motion-picture actress, from Owen Moore. Gov. Boyle of Nevada stated at Sacramento yesterday that his office is being "deluged with telegrams from influential persons in all parts of the United States," asking that he put an end to the inquiry. At the same time, however, it was announced at Carson City, Nev., that Superior Judge Langan, who granted the divorce, had filed with Atty.-Gen. Fowler a demand that a special deputy be appointed to investigate the whole affair.

There is a feeling in Nevada, was the statement of Gov. Boyle, who was passing through Sacramento en route to Seattle, that "a joke had been made of the judiciary," and that steps will be taken at once to annul the divorce decree, if the present investigation shows any "evidence of collusion between Mr. Moore and Miss Pickford, who has since married Douglas Fairbanks the motion-picture actor."

Judge Langan, who granted Miss Pickford her divorce at Minden, Nev., is, according to advices from Carson City, indignant because of published statements that he considers cast a reflection upon his own part in the affair. The publications include a letter from a Gardnerville (Nev.) woman saying that rumors were circulating of bribery and of the expenditure of large sums of money in connection with the Pickford divorce.

The judge is expected to return to Gardnerville to investigate and then appeared at Carson City, yesterday, and held a personal conference with the Attorney-General.

Even before this conference it was believed at the Nevada capital that Atty.-Gen. Richards, who has been investigating the Pickford case, had arranged to file within a week a suit in the name of the people of Douglas county, where the divorce was granted, to have the divorce set aside.

IN LAST TRIBUTE TO
MRS. FRANK WIGGINS.

SCORES OF PROMINENT PEOPLE ATTEND FUNERAL OF WELL-KNOWN WOMAN.

Following simple funeral services at the Friday Morning Club House, the body of Mrs. Frank Wiggins, wife of the veteran secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was cremated yesterday at Rosedale Cemetery.

Rev. D. W. Jones officiated at the funeral services and read James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "Away." Harry Clifford Lott sang "A Perfect Day." The coffin was completely covered by the favorite blossoms of the deceased, while scores of the city's most prominent men and women were gathered about it to pay a silent tribute to a well-known woman.

The pallbearers were Maynard McPhee, L. D. Sale, J. M. Schneider, R. W. Priddy, F. Q. Story, Robert N. Bulla, E. D. Lyman and W. D. Longyear, all associates of long standing in community work with Mr. Wiggins, and all former officers of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Wiggins died at her home in Santa Monica last Friday night. Her health had been failing for more than a year and a half and she had been in a weakened physical condition for a long time.

During her life here in Los Angeles she had been very active in all civic movements. She was one of the organizers of the Friday Morning Club and a charter member. She was a member of the Friends Church and formerly resided in Whittier.

ORDER BLUE DISMISSED.

Police Sergeant Also Engaged in Undertaking Business.

Detective Sergeant Walter Blue was ordered dismissed yesterday by the Police Commission because, in the opinion of the commission, he has been violating a rule of the department which prohibits police officers from engaging in an outside business. Mr. Blue is a member of the undertaking firm of Alvares & Blue.

The action of the commission followed an exciting hearing before the commission, during which attorneys representing Blue and the undertakers' association wrangled. Testimony was introduced to show that Blue had used his position as police officer to secure business for the undertaking firm of which he is a member.

FOR CITY RESERVOIR.

Winter Waters Are to be Impounded for Irrigation Use.

The Board of Public Service Commissioners agreed yesterday to purchase of approximately 100 acres of land in Big Tejon Canyon, part of a site of 100 acres to be used for a reservoir. Construction work on the water storage basin is expected to begin in about eight months. For the land purchased yesterday $150 an acre will be paid for twenty-five acres now used for farming and $25 an acre will be paid for the remainder.

The Big Tejon reservoir will be one of a series to collect water during the winter to be used for irrigation during the dry months.

TWO HOMES LOOTED BY WOMAN BURGLAR.

Operating with a male assistant and an automobile a woman burglar, according to reports turned over to the police yesterday, early yesterday morning looted the residence of Dr. E. D. Ellis, 6660 Carlton way, and the home of F. C. Babcock, 363 North Norton avenue.

The thieves secured about $500 worth of jewelry and clothing. Neighbors reported to the police that a young woman and a man were seen leaving the houses that were ransacked.

ESCAPE FRUSTRATED.

Insanity Suspect Bolted; Caught After Gunplay and Chase.

While Andy Bargan, accused of snatching an envelope containing money from Helen Volk, a telegrapher for the Southern Pacific, was being taken to the psychiatric ward of the County Hospital by Deputy Sheriff Hots and Modie, he attempted to escape, the officers reported yesterday. Several shots were fired and the prisoner was captured after a chase.

JUDGE RAISES PRICE.

William W. Smith, on his plea of guilty to a violation of the Volstead Act, was fined $400 by United States District Judge Trippel, yesterday, and ordered committed to the Imperial County Jail until the fine is paid.

Smith is an employee of the Southern Pacific, but owns a ranch in Imperial county. The fine means that the court added $10 to the cost of each bottle of liquor for the testimony showed that he was caught with four dozen bottles of the stuff.

SERVICE COMMISSION RE-ELECTS ROBERTSON.

Howard Robertson was yesterday afternoon unanimously re-elected president of the Board of Public Service Commissioners for the ensuing year. Mr. Robertson, who was formerly an assistant City Attorney, was appointed to the board two years ago by Mayor Woodman, and has two years more to serve.

FOUR INDICTED.

The following indictments were returned by the Federal grand jury yesterday: Fred Suppe, having in possession government property taken at Camp Kearny; Rex Fritchard and Douglas Trainett, bringing a stolen automobile within the jurisdiction of the southern division of the United States; Charles W. Taylor, Jr., violation of the Mann White Slave Act.

An order was entered by Judge Trippel discharging William O. Howell of Long Beach from custody. Howell was charged with fleeing off the scene of the killing of his wife, but the wife refused to testify.

ON LIQUOR CHARGE.

Joe Vincini of Lankersheim was arrested yesterday on the charge of violating the Volstead Act by selling a gallon of dry wine to A. C. McGuire for which he received $4. The accused was held in $500 bond, by United States Commissioner Long.
